

MMQB

NOVEMBER 27, 2017

Lighting Up AT&T's
West Coast Flagship
Location p26

visual continuity, and matching wall and door pairings. Frame and trim components are light in proportion, providing a minimal architectural presence. Focus supports LEED initiatives and occupant health, balancing the need for enclosure and acoustic privacy with a sense of openness and full access to natural light.

Configura announces release of CET Designer 8.5

- ▶ The latest release also includes the ability to install the latest updates in the background, without having to interrupt one's work. CET Designer 8.5 also supports AutoCAD 2018.

Configura, maker of CET Designer software, announces the release of CET Designer 8.5.

This latest version of the space-planning software used by major manufacturers and their dealer-designers includes feature requests made and voted upon by CET Designer users.

The top vote-getter: the ability to export materials and textures from the free CET Designer Revlink Extension to Revit 2018. This new feature means users can maintain the material or texture "look" on products specified in CET Designer for use in Revit 2018 files.

In second place is the ability to now use preset product lighting options in CET Designer's free Movie Studio Extension. The Extension lets users create fly-thru videos of a designed space.

In third place is the ability to scale accessories from the Office Accessories Extension. This free CET Designer Extension includes objects typically found in an office environment. The accessories, and the new ability to increase or decrease their size, enhance the realism of renderings.

CET Designer 8.5 also includes the ability to place dimensions and measure distances while working in 3D. Plus, new keyboard shortcuts as well as improvements to the Paper View setting have been added. The latest release also includes the ability to install the latest updates in the background, without having to interrupt one's work. CET Designer 8.5 also supports AutoCAD 2018.

CET Designer users can learn more about the new features in CET Designer 8.5 by watching video tutorials or taking part in webinars found at <https://www.configura.com/academy#cet-designer>

NeoCon East 2017 Connects the East Coast Commercial Interiors Community Looks Ahead to Future

- ▶ NeoCon organizers will return with a revamped edition in the Fall of 2019.

With four powerful keynotes, more than 25 CEUs and over 150 exhibitors, NeoCon East (November 15-16 at the Pennsylvania Convention Center) treated the East Coast design community to two productive days of programming, networking and products. Exhibiting companies gained

IT'S LIKE HAVING THIS GUY

PROTECTING YOUR CUSTOMER'S FILES.

The Phoenix family of products provides on-site fire and water protection for your customer's files. They worked hard to build their business, so we won't let it go up in smoke.

(800) 636.0778

WWW.PHOENIXSAFEUSA.COM

NEWS

valuable direct contact with key architects, designers and major corporate and government end users, while attending professionals gained insight and access to the latest ideas and innovations in the industry. Many exhibitors have already reported strong project leads and business opportunities as a result of the 2017 edition.

According to Julie Kohl, Vice President - Exhibitor Sales, NeoCon Shows, "Our exhibitors enjoyed a great turn-out of decision makers from top A&D firms and major corporations as well as several federal agencies and representatives from GSA. There were high caliber conversations and strong connections over the last couple of days. This should result directly in competitive advantage for those companies taking part."

This year's show underscores the importance of a fall event for to engage the commercial interiors community. NeoCon organizers will return with a revamped edition in the Fall of 2019. The team is currently working with key stakeholders and partners to assess and design a post-NeoCon(June)/Fall season show that continues to provide a platform to connect the industry while addressing its most current and relevant topics and opportunities. New event details including dates, location and venue will be available in the coming months.

