Fritztile's Vibrant Pearl Collection Combines Natural Stone with Mother of Pearl Stone for a Highly Durable Terrazzo-Like Surface.

September, 2017 – Fritztile is a resilient terrazzo tile that offers commercial spaces the look and durability of terrazzo tile with much less maintenance. A brand of The Stonhard Group, Fritztile latest offering is a naturally elegant, new Vibrant Pearl Collection, featuring ten patterns combining natural stone chips with stunning mother of pearl, set in an opaque, high performance matrix. Fritztile terrazzo tiles are ideal solutions for airports, education, arenas, healthcare, hospitality, corporate and retail markets.

“The Vibrant Pearl Collection was developed in response to the latest trends in high-performance commercial flooring,” explained Randy Gillespie, Sr. VP of Sales and Marketing for Fritztile. “The goal was to design a product to help reduce the visibility of the seams. The reflective quality in the mother of pearl distracts the eye. The result is a floor that looks continuously poured and hides any dirt and imperfections, an appeal feature for almost any project. “

Like all Fritztile products, Vibrant Pearl tiles are affordable and offer durability and beauty that will last throughout the lifetime of the structure. For more than 50 years, specifiers have trusted Fritztile in a variety of installations by providing industry-leading acoustical performance and life cycle cost, FloorScore certification, high LEED contribution and a Class 1 Fire rating.

See Fritztile at NeoCon East Philadelphia this year, November 15-16, Booth #725.
